

ECE502: Introduction to LBD

A historical overview of the field of special education will be presented. This course will provide information and knowledge on legislation and litigation in special education, characteristics of children and youth with disabilities, and procedures for eligibility and provision of special education and related services. Special education laws will be addressed relevant to the course content.

Credit Hour(s): 3

Department: Exceptional Child Education