

ECE542: Using Technology to Remove Barriers for Students with Disabilities

Introduction to computers as an educational tool through study of application software packages for word processing, spreadsheets, databases, presentations, and the use of the Internet and e-mail in the classroom. Assistive technology and universal design for learning is included for special education teachers.

Credit Hour(s): 3

Department: Exceptional Child Education